

Volunteer Blogger

We are one of the UK's most dedicated and ambitious anti-bullying charities. Our award winning work is delivered across the UK and each year, through our work with schools, colleges, youth and community settings, we provide education, training and support to thousands of young people.

Purpose of the Role

It is hard to imagine the Internet without blogs. Whether it's on Tumblr, WordPress, or your own website, a blog is a great way to share your thoughts with the world. Our Volunteer Blogger volunteering opportunity is a new role for 2018. BulliesOut has always relied on the dedication and skills of volunteers to help deliver our work and as the charity grows, we would like to continue to encourage volunteers to become involved in varying roles. This role will enable you to advocate for a worthy cause whilst enhancing our website with up to date relevant articles. Writing will focus on quality but also on improving our search ranking.

Role Description

- To contribute informative, entertaining or thought-provoking posts for our website blog and to help promote it
- Liaising with your BulliesOut Coordinator to keep up-to-date with our activities and future direction and incorporating these into the posts
- Complying with legal requirements, such as Data Protection and Confidentiality
- Not bring the Charity's name into disrepute

Skills Required

- Strong research and writing skills
- Is able to write eloquently or amusingly but most importantly, in a jargon-free manner!
- Excellent organisational and administrative skills
- Ability to work independently
- Honesty and reliability
- Ability to meet weekly deadlines
- Self motivated
- Passion and enthusiasm
- An interest in anti-bullying and the work of BulliesOut

What's in it for me?

- Develop research and writing skills
- Improve writing SEO friendly content

- Training opportunities
- Successful blog posts will be published with the author's name in the bio.
- Meet new people
- Be active and engaged
- Add value to your community
- Make a difference to those affected by bullying
- Learn new skills and improve your CV
- Reasonable out of pocket expenses will be reimbursed according to guidelines

Other

You will receive an induction when you start and any training needed to complete the role. You will be provided with a volunteer handbook and regular 1-2-1 supervision. We hold regular meetings and additional training sessions.

This is a volunteer opportunity within BulliesOut. BulliesOut volunteers are people who, unpaid and of their own free will, contribute their time, energy and skills to support the purposes of the charity. BulliesOut volunteers may perform a variety of tasks and duties, under direction and guidance, using their skills, knowledge and time to help BulliesOut best achieve its objectives.

We respect and honour our volunteers by building trust and understanding. Such a partnership is not intended to be a legally binding contract or to have mutuality of obligation, but instead express a voluntary two-way commitment where everyone gains satisfaction from being part of our organisation.

Successful applicants will be required to:

- Undergo an enhanced DBS check (provided by BulliesOut)
- Provide two professional referees
- Sign a confidentiality agreement
